Mary Lou,
I'm glad that I met you.
I think this year has been really tough for the both of us. We both shared in alot of bad feeling about this school in the beginning of the year but I finally learned to like ~~it~~ here.
I gonna miss ya next year but there is no reason to stay if you really hate it because it would ruin your whole teen-age life, right?
Well it's been really good knowing ya. Hope Rogers is gobs of fun, and I know you'll have 10 million friends. Have fun (already said that!)
Sure messed that word
up.
→ Love Ya always,
Diane

Mary Lou,
I'm really glad I know you because I think You're really nice. It seems hard to believe that You're not conceited 'cause you're so cute. I know you're not conceited though 'cause
You're so kind,

I'm glad I met you too. I know this year was tough for us both but I'm glad we made it through. I'm sorry that I wasn't more friendly to you at first. I was so nervous about coming to a new school that I didn't know what to do. I'm glad we became friends. I'll miss you next year but I'll be back to visit. Have a great summer and soon!

Love,
Mary Lou

Mary,

Well, I'm really thrilled to be the second one to sign your yearbook! We've had a lot of fun this year together + I'm glad I got to know ya as well as I do. I'm really glad I had ya in 5 of my classes because if I didn't, I'd be flunkin worse than I ~~a~~ already am!

It's been so much fun this year and I wish you were comin back next year. I'll especially remember Lunch, Gym, and World History and the notes we passed around in W.H., the laughs we had at ~~lu~~ lunch, and just everything else.

Take Care of Mark. I'm ~~go~~ gonna miss that ring! I don't want any more of that monsense like sneakin out of the house at night either! Just Kiddin.

Take Care MaryLou, I'm gonna miss you and your retainer. Have fun this summer and I hope all your dreams + ~~wi~~ wishes come true ~~sum~~ someday. Have fun at Rogers next year. At least you won't have to wear these dumb janitor pants anymore.

Keep in Touch MaryLou — Love ya always,

Jeannie S '77

Mary Lou,

I just can't believe it! A whole year has passed by, though it seems like just a few days. I'm really happy you were in at least three of my classes (though I wish it would have been more!) I'll always remember the fun we had in music, and how you hit poor, little Sister Carmenita and nearly knocked her out cold. You were such a help in all of my classes, especially algebra, music and Religion.

Well, have lots of fun this summer, which I'm sure you will have (Mark). And keep in touch at 385-5407, O.K?

Love,
Regina

Are We Meant To Take More Than We Give

Seniors — a group like no other, molded in bonds by friendships, memories, laughter, tears, victory, and defeat.
Reaching forth in preparation only too soon be separated.
Turning around like so many times before, yet this time to see something different.
We have traveled many paths together to reach 'The Road' and it is here that we will pursue our dreams.
As we make the journey down we may catch some familiar grins, if so we will be all the more confident for it.

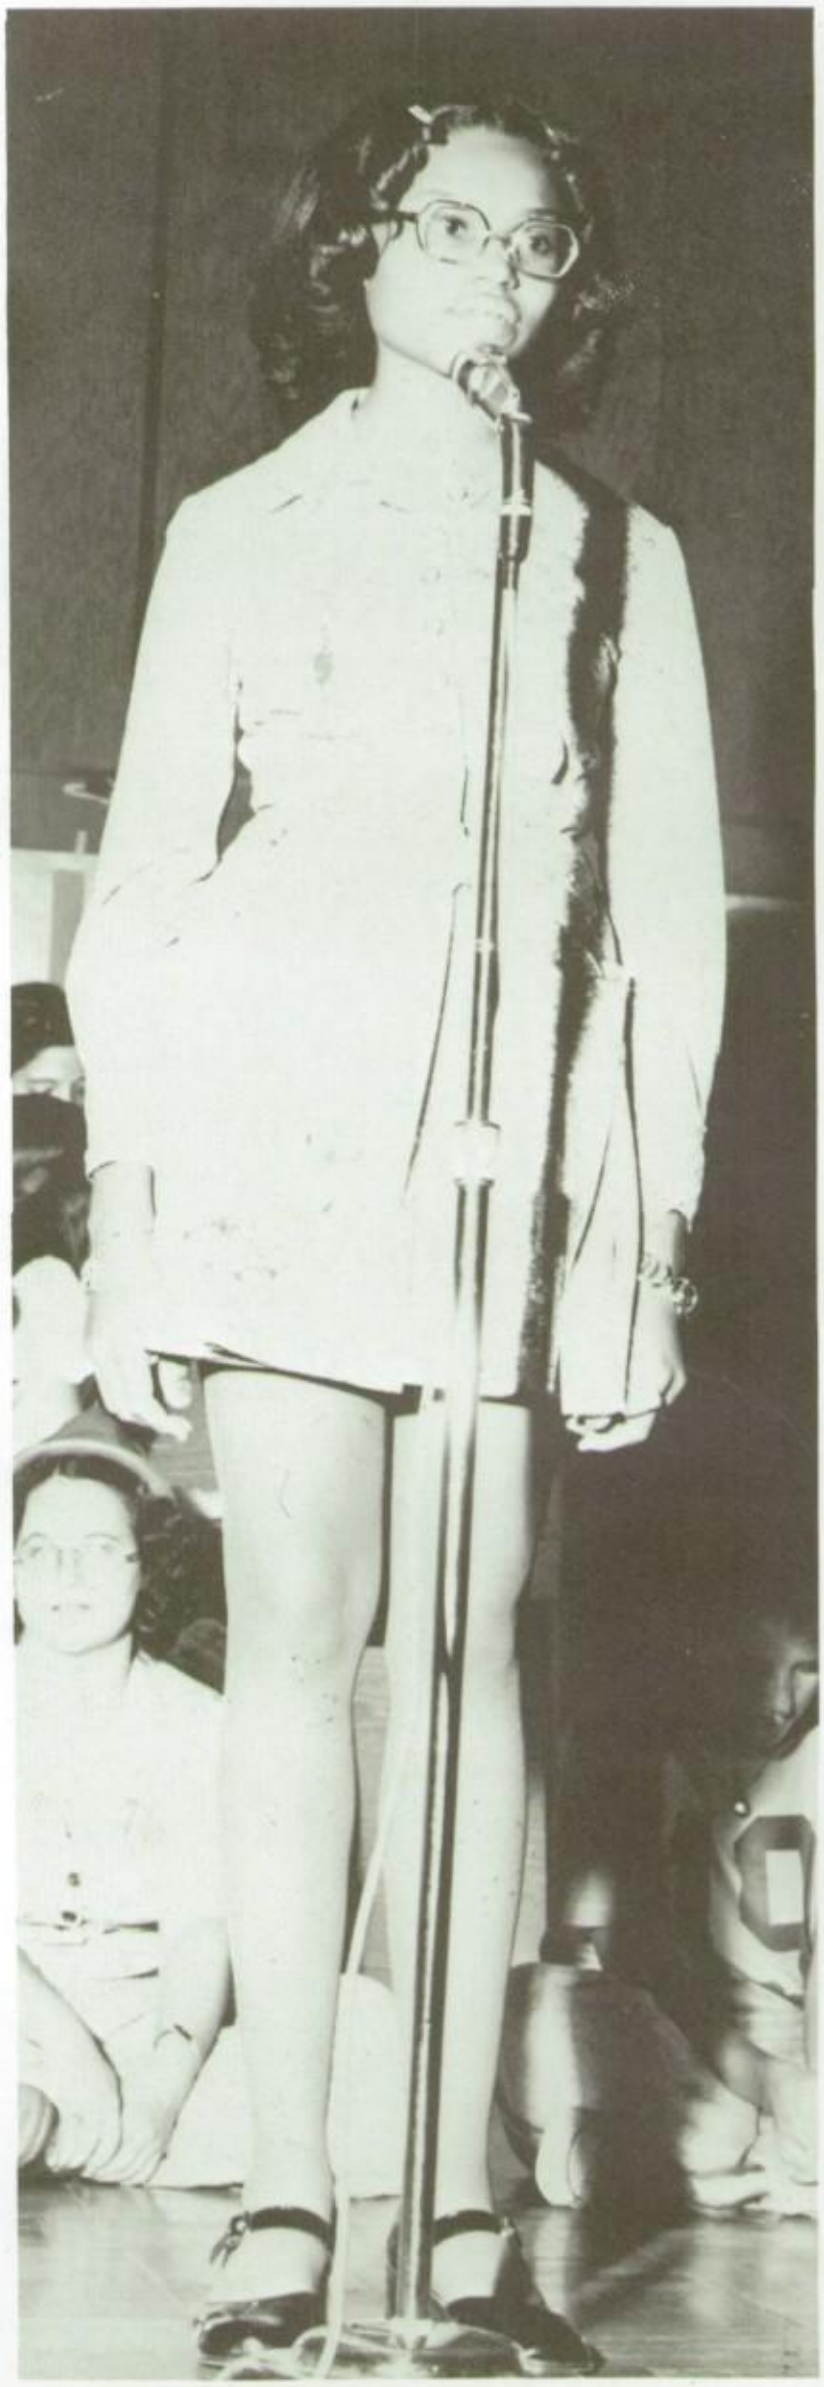
Student Council Holds Opening Assembly

What a way to start out the year! An assembly enjoyed by the viewers as well as the cast.

Our theme, "What's It All About Ursula?" was portrayed by Holly Haddad, Mary Beth Stoeckley, Mary Kennedy and a very determined and successful part of the student body. These girls gave most of their spare time to the assembly during the summer — even up to the day it was presented.

Seniors Sue Spieker and Janet Schoen show their talent as "Bert and Mary."

In the Opening Assembly, Holly Haddad (right) measures up Mary Kennedy (left) and Mary Beth Stoeckley (center) against other new freshmen at St. Ursula.



Junior Shari Carter sings the theme song of this year's Opening Assembly, "What's It All About Ursula?".

St. Francis – St. John's Invite Ursuline Students To Participate In Events

Are we meant to take more than we give? With the tension and excitement of Homecomings electrifying the air, Ursula was far from being left out of the action. Student Council got the paper, staples and cars.

The cafeteria was filled with flower fluffers during lunch for a week before the games.

The St. Francis car rolled regally through the caravan, proclaiming the fact that the "Irish Are In The Heat Of The Knight."

The St. John's Homecoming caravan was once more graced by the appearance of an Ursula original bedecked Volkswagon stating: "Bug 'Em Titans!"

D.C. Beckons SUA Seniors To Make Yearly Journey

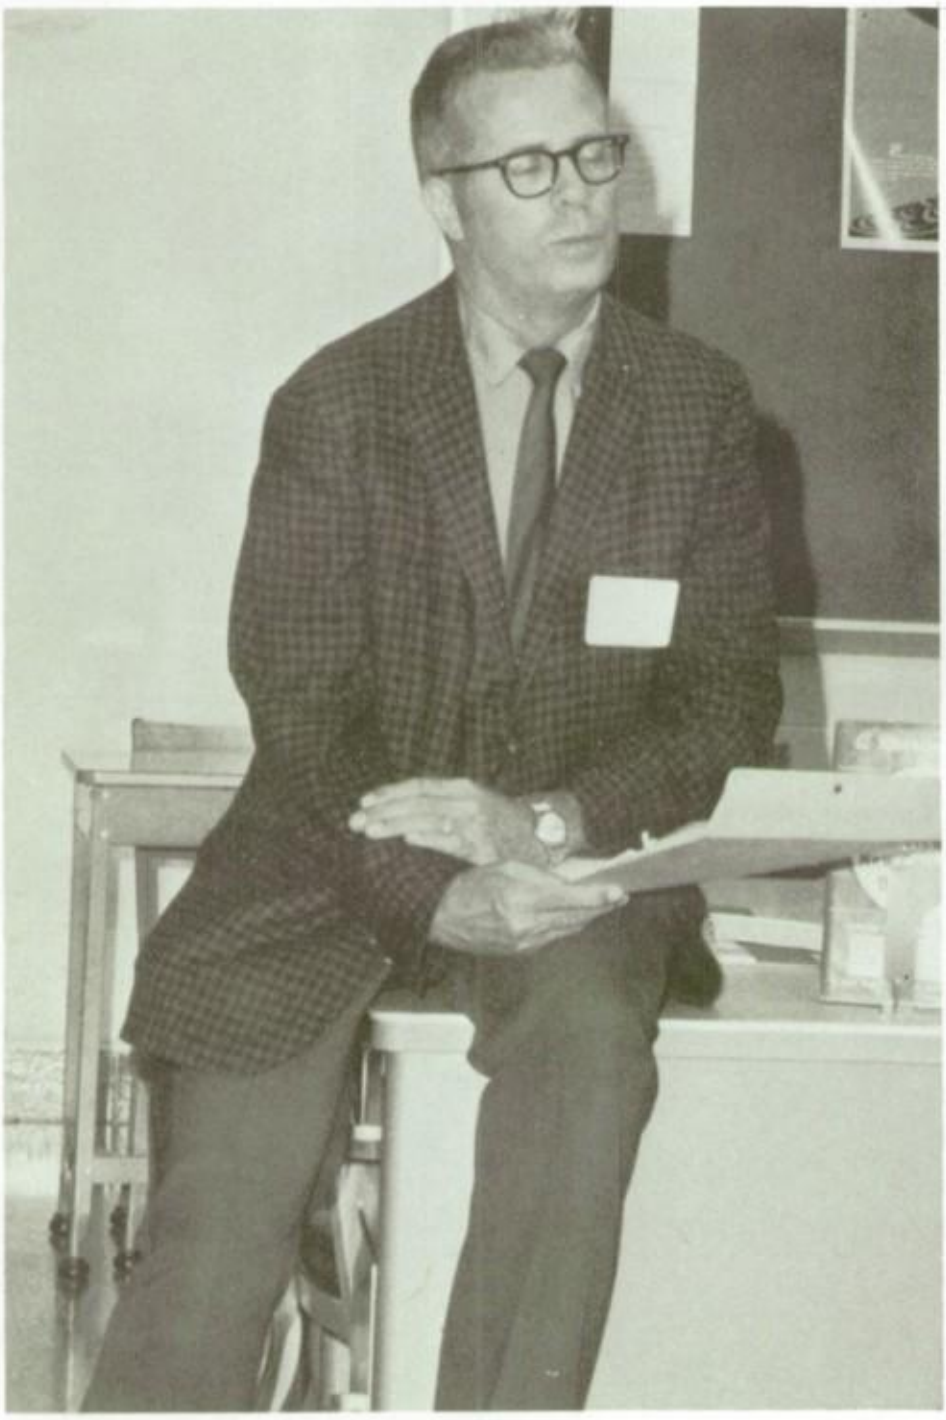
Is it just for the moment we live? Is a question very close to the Seniors as they spend their last year together as a rollicking, fun-loving group. During the jaunt to D.C. every moment was packed with memories to fill a life-time.

The class of '74 did not arrive unprepared in the nation's capitol. In addition to being entertained by "R.J." and the National Wax Museum, the seniors really "got into it."

Determined Beth Meyer and Debbie Gebolys enjoy a meal at the Seniors' "favorite place" Scholl's Colonial Cafeteria.

Senior Class Pres. Sue Spieker and Student Council Pres. Kathryn Zychowicz present a floral wreath to honor the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Communications Day Highlights Activities

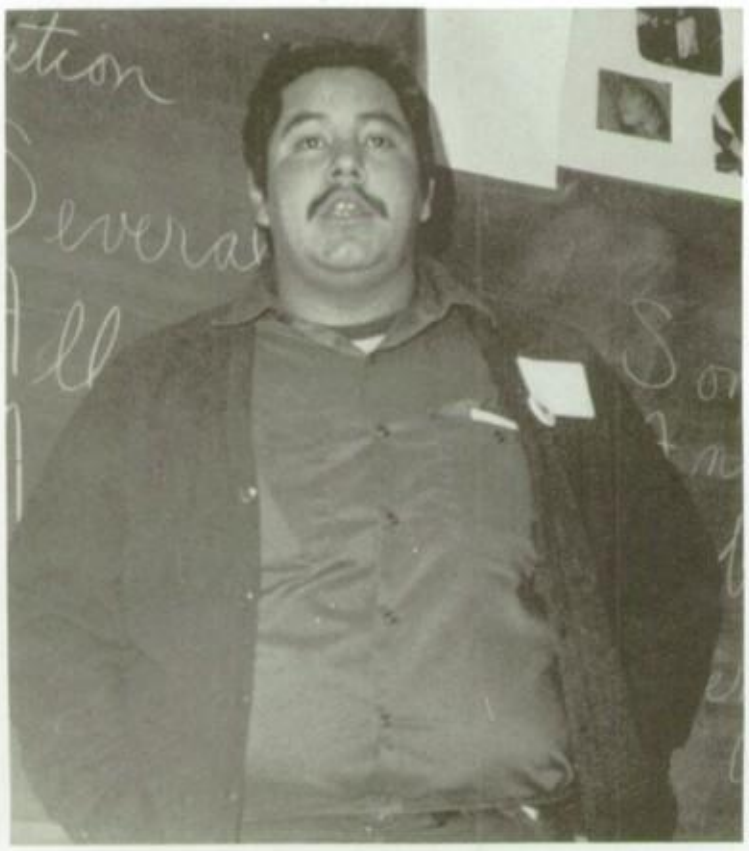


Dan McCarthy, Catholic Chronicle editor, speaks on publications

Student Council sponsored an Activities Week during October.

Fr. Jack Farley from Divine Word Seminary spoke to the school on Monday. Then a two hour movie, "Caine Mutiny" was shown Tuesday. Wednesday, speakers expressed their views on communications. Thursday was Sweetest Day and little and big sisses exchanged small gifts. The talented sophomores took charge of Friday, St. Ursula Day assembly and Mass.

Mr. Hibbard of Ch. 30, tells group about "secrets" of WGTE.



Mr. Joseph Rubio reveals to SUA students the deplorable conditions of the Toledo migrant workers.

Various communications speakers gather in the SUA lobby before giving their talks.

Fr. Jack Farley S.V.D., discusses missionary life with interested girls.

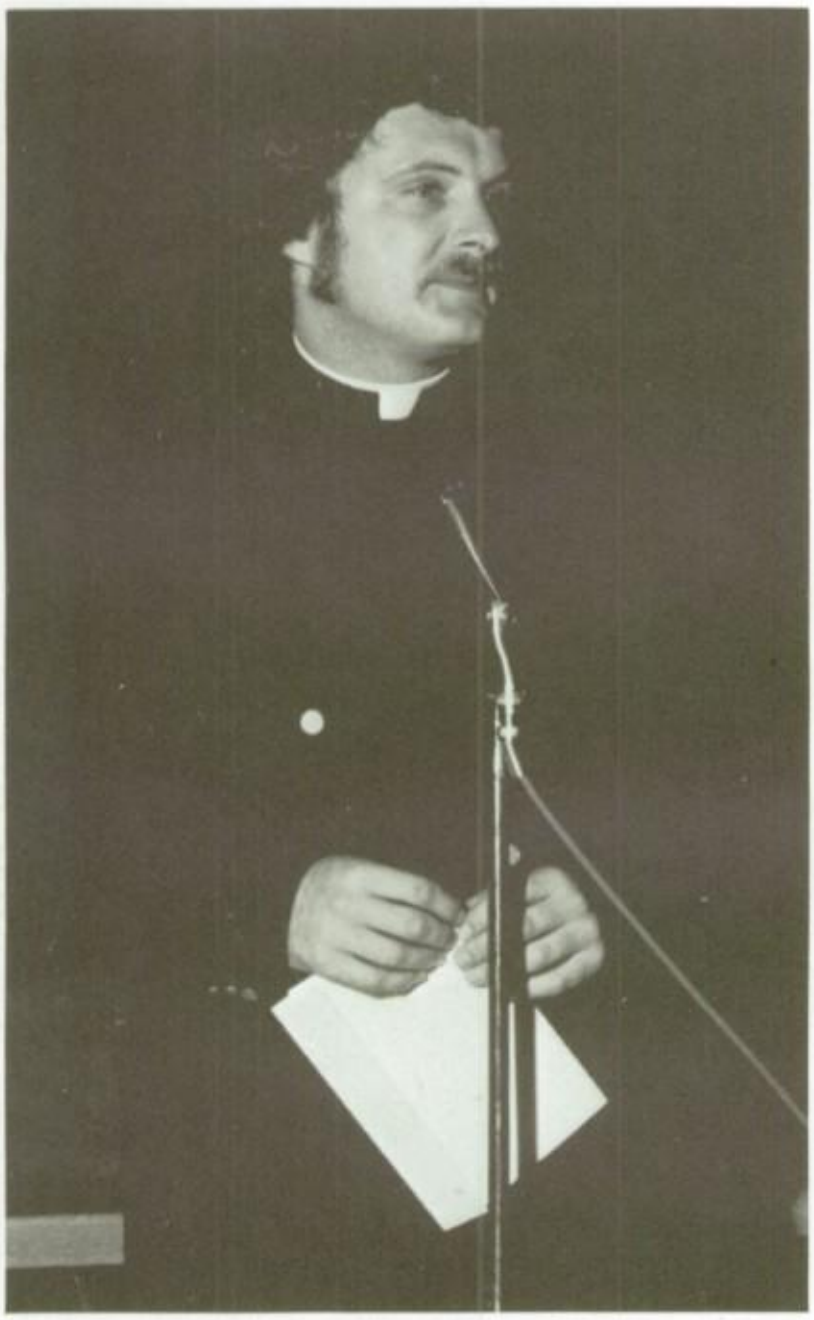
Juniors Illustrate 'We've Only Just Begun'



A year ago the class of '75 had wondered whether they could wait that interminable time til October '73 when they would receive their most prized possessions: class rings. The then sophomores had already tried and fitted their favorite ring; the traditional style, used for over 50 years or the more contemporary 2-year old design.

At the Ring Ceremony, the juniors exchanged rings, proudly flashing them while a dramatic recap of frosh and soph years brought back memories of class comedies and tragedies.

Sophomores Present Play; An 'Ursula For All Seasons'

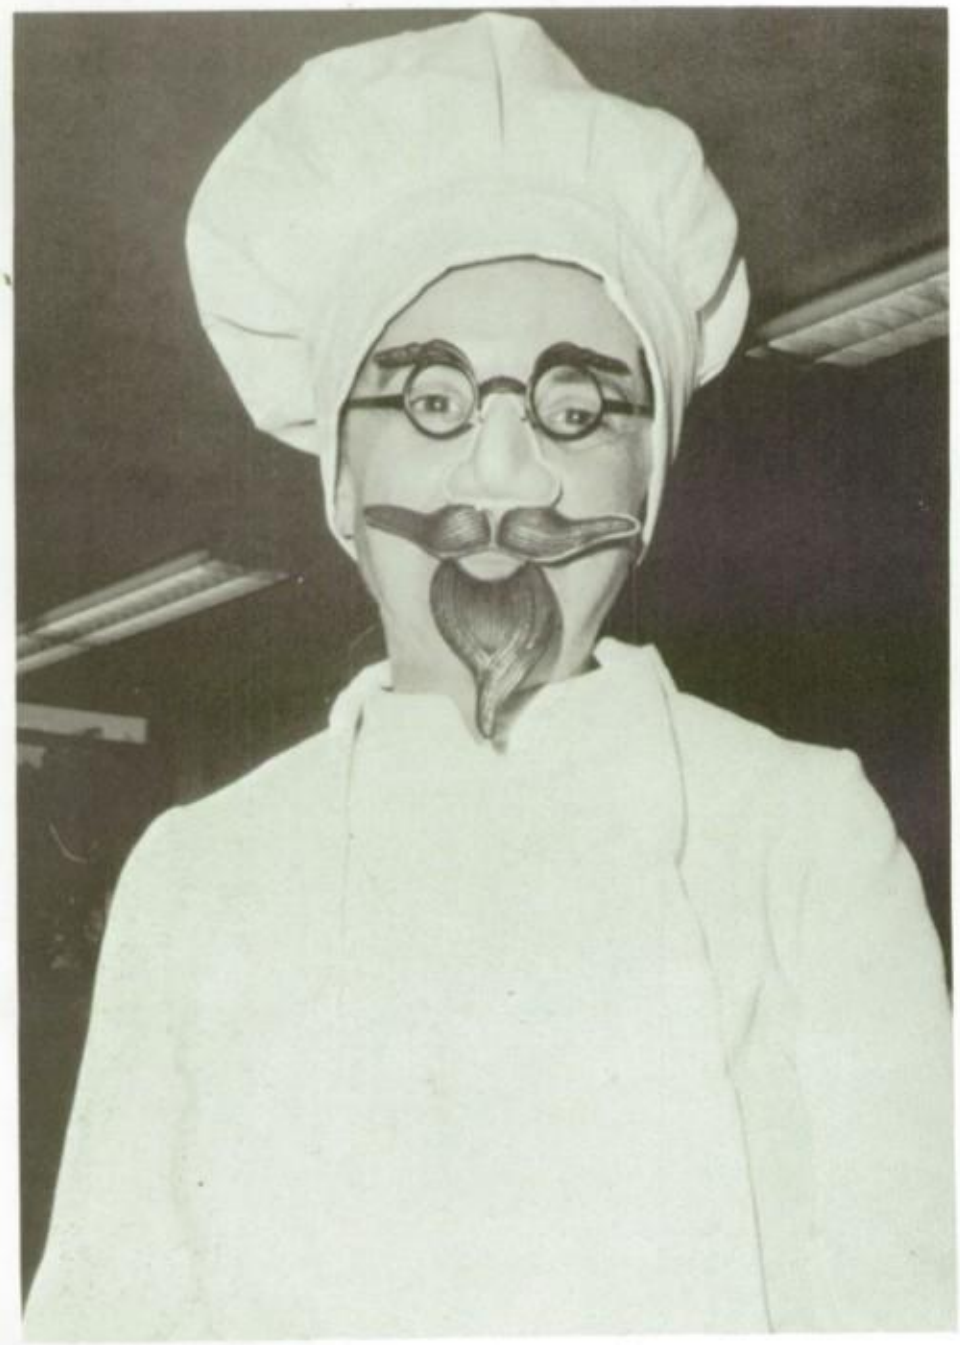
Examining the changing events from year to year, the class of '76 discovered there was an Ursula for all seasons. Spanning the interests of more than just a few, the school's ability to capture the broad cross-section of faces and personalities characterized in each class was ably portrayed by the sophomores.

Patty O'Neill plays the role of mommy during the sophomore production of the Ursula Day Assembly.

Jeannie Blanchard questions the activites of the upcoming year at St. Ursula.

The chorus prepares to sing their musical selections for the Ursula Day Mass.

Spooky Creatures Haunt SUA After-Hours



The unexpected became the expected at the ghoulish after-school activities as Bobby Orr, Mickey Mantle and Bozo and fellow clowns besieged the cafeteria. Competition for the most original masquerade was stiff between demon-like draculas and one unidentifiable baker.

Ragedy Ann walked off with a free bid for Student Council Dance while the baker secured first prize for the faculty.

Siserella Performs In Big Little Sis Assembly

The Junior Class presented the humorous "Siserella" for their little sisses on Oct. 26.

Colleen Carroll starred as Siserella who was too shy to ask Sis Charming to be her Little Sis. Julie Hills played the Fairy God Sis. Mrs. Carol Falke, Jan Hilt, and Mary Beth Wersell made the assembly a success by directing the project.

'Out In Country' Sets Mood For SC Dance

"Black Silvers" performing at SUA's Student Council Dance held Nov. 16.

"Out In The Country" was the theme for the 1973-74 Student Council Dance.

Couples shuffled their feet to the music of "Black Silvers". The gym was decorated stunningly. And to top off the beautifully decorated gym, was Sue Spieker, the new Student Council Queen. What a beautiful way to end such a memorable night.

Students And Faculty Enjoy Mass-Breakfast

On a snowy Sunday Jan. 6, the students and faculty elebrated mass. The mass celebrating the Feast of the Epiphany was said by Fr. Larry Scharf in Ursula's gymnasium. A portion of the chorus was also present to sing ome of their joyful Christmas songs. The Drama Club, nder the direction of Mrs. Kerry Dewey, presented the Christmas program entitled "From God With Love," writen by Tom Sawyer.

After the mass both faculty and students gathered in he cafeteria to enjoy a hearty breakfast. The delicious reakfast, prepared by the cafeteria ladies, consisted of ggs and bacon, sweet rolls, juice, coffee and hot chocoate.

SC-Black Togetherness Week Highlight Year

Student Council cooperated with the Black students to sponsor activities during Black History-Student Council Week, Feb. 23.

Tuesday saw a patriotic display of red, white, and blue as students dressed in commemaration of President's Day. Carrying through the Black Awareness theme, Black students handed out red, black, and green buttons that exemplified the pride of the Blackman.

Wednesday the sights and sounds of show biz were brought here by the directors of People, Incorporated.

Thursday scrumptious aromas of cookies and cracker jacks tempted big and little sisses to destroy diets as everyone enjoyed deluxe lunches. At the close of the week, students dressed like the fashionable fifties and danced at a mock prom held at the conclusion of the day.

Juniors, Seniors Boogie Through Evening

Lightening up the blasé February was the Junior-Senior Prom, "Let The Good Times Roll," held on February 15 in the Crystal Room of the Commodore Perry Motor Inn.

Black satin, red velvet and white halter dresses floated with the fantasic music of Conneticut which appealed to the young dancing couples and the young-at-heart chaperones.

Even after prom the theme was carried out when the good times rolled and rolled and rolled at Skateland and Southwyck Bowling Lanes.

The smoothness and success of the night were due to the organization by Sue Spieker and Kathy Kelley, and their wonderful committee chairmen.

Freshman Friars Fire Fair Fight

As Friars, the class of '77 was not hushed in its expression of pride. Cries of "Fry it our Way" resounded clearly to high heaven and the wall design vividly portrayed a smiling Friar doing just that.

Friar Tuck was the hero of the Festa Kick-off skit with co-star Robin Hood lending the good brother a helping hand. High hopes and a sharp team confronted the previous year's No. 1 ranked team in the opening game. The Friars dominated the entire game Friday night against the sophomores. Overtime, however, brought the Frosh disappointment when the Surgeons struggled ahead. But everyone was still unable to say "nuthin' bad about the Friars."

There were no malpractice suits Friday night as the Surgeons performed a dazzling come back following Thursday's unsuccessful operation. Orange-gloved doctors led the Sophomore Class in a "no quack" procedure to win the Spirit award Thursday, but Friday saw the most stupendous faith-healing. After lagging all the game, the surgeons suddenly gave a last kick and tied the freshmen in the final seconds. With unrestrainable determination, they grabbed the lead in overtime and clung there to capture their first victory.

Oh, No, Don't Say Nothing Bad About Joeys

Droopy tails followed no Joeys home after Intramurals. Once again the light and dark blue class claimed best song and cheer and outstanding skit awards.

Thursday night the team took on their little sisses for the first time and hopped over them 30 to 10. The championship game was tensely met as the juniors defended their winning title against their traditional foes of three years. The results, however, did not favor the Joeys this year.

Senior Circus Tops Intramural Events

The Senior Class closed their final Intramural season with a triumphant flourish and a restored claim to the championship title.

After a first-night win over the sophs 49-24, the Senior Circus went on to avenge last year's loss dealt them by the Class of '75. The juniors were vanquished in a 41-34 victory, bringing the Senior Circus Intramural record to a seven wins, one loss total for four years.

Recognition for best wall design was swept in for the second straight year by the Class of '74 along with the Sportsmanship award in a neatly tied-up winning style echoed by the cheer: "You can't beat the Champs!"

Student Council Sets Popular Theme For Year

Besides having general purposes and goals — the 1973-74 Student Council administration had some specific goals for their school year. First of all as their theme indicates, they wished for everyone to try to find out "What Ursula is All About." Secondly to increase the caring attitude towards St. Ursula in all respects. Their third goal is to keep Student Council going strong throughout the whole year, which helps in carrying out their fourth goal of making St. Ursula a fun place to be. Lastly they hope to make Student Council an experience for everyone so that people realize its usefulness.

These goals sometimes seem far away and unattainable but ". . . As sure as we believe there's a heaven above, Ursula, we know there's something much more. Something even non-believers can believe in . . ."

Female Athletes Add Dimensions

The aim of GAA (Girls Athletic Association) is to expand in all reas of sports and provide an opportunity to do more for the members of the club.

Seventy-two members make up GAA, headed by President — Dottie Huebner, Vice-President — Ann Jones, Secretary — Wendy Conklin, and Treasurer — Sue Anderson. GAA has seemed to open the opportunity to offer a variety of sports to those concerned and interested.

The Bowling team has access to Ottawa Bowling Lanes; every Tuesday afternoon, girls practice on their techniques.

Other activities include: skiing, skating parties, volleyball, swimming, horseback riding, tennis, track, jogging, ping-pong, and play days for the class of "78".

Spikers Burn Nets

St. Ursula's volleyball season started out at McAuley High School. The tournaments consisted of four teams competing against one another: Central, McAuley, Notre Dame and St. Ursula.

Our senior team won two games but was defeated by Central. The junior team, handicapped, being minus one needed-player, bumped their way to three victories. The sophomores were the victors of two games but were defeated by the host of the tourney, McAuley.

The green frosh, new to the excitement of the tournaments, were defeated twice but managed to make a comeback and overcome Notre Dame Academy.

After all the bumping and spiking and yelling and screaming and running and jumping, St. Ursula was appalled to find out that they had only attained second place. But it's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game.

People Incorporated Extend Helping Hands

People Incorporated officers are Chris Regan, Terri Pritchard, Moderator Sr. Jane Connors, Ann Younkman, and Mary Uhl.

People Inc. What is it? If you don't know, then you are evidently not one of the eighty members of the fortunate ones being touched by their thoughtful deeds. This organization, being the largest club at Ursula, donates more than their spare time to others. With such a large group the planning could get tricky, but with capable officers like Presidents Anne Younkman and Teri Pritchard, Vice-Preisdents Chris Regan and Mary Uhl, nothing is ever mixed up. People Inc. has tackled many projects such as the Halloween Party for the North Toledo children at the Crossroads Community Center, weekly visits at the Sunshine Home, the Christmas and Valentine s Post Office and the talent show for the missions.

Service, Film Clubs Add Zip To School

The film Club, headed ably by veterans Judy Andrews and Patti Powers introduced something new this year. To break the monotony of the school day short films are screened in the Little Theater every Wednesday. Any interested student can attend during her lunch period.

Sister Joanne is the moderator of this club and at their monthly meetings, members are able to discuss current films in depth.

The long range goal is to bring the students of SUA to the understanding of the importance of film.

The Service Club members are the helpful hands of SUA. Though they are a small group, they do the mighty work. The seven girls along with Sister Anne Louise, do any odd jobs around school that the faculty requests. Typing, cleaning and caring for machines are all a part of their job.

Service Club: Sister Anne Louise, Regina Cark, Donalee William, Darlene Sochocki, Claudia Bosch, Karen Planicka, Anne Escott and Debbie Kowalski look over St. Ursula's AV equipment before going out on a job.

Film Club: Sr. Joanne Juhasz and club members Michelle Lambillotte, Jane Sobczak, Vicki Chubner and Judy Andrews discuss films from the catalogue.

Michelle Lambillotte and Jane Sobczak show "Why Are You Smiling, Mona Lisa" to lunch hour crowd.

Sr. Mary Jane examines Anti-litter posters of Kathy Mougey, Mary Cummings, and Sue Iannone, members of the Science Club, before they post them.

Scientists Promote Ecology Awareness

Have you noticed the anti-litter, conservation, or heat save posters in the halls? If the answer is yes, then indirectly you have been aware of the Science Club's work in promoting community improvements.

This year's Club has enjoyed tours to the Medical College and talks from people connected with the Toledo Medical Educational Center.

President Cathi Andrews, Secretary Nancy Nice and Moderator Sister Mary Jane Consentino believe in promoting science activites for those girls at SUA who want to follow medical or scientific careers. For those interested, this peek at science may be all they need to get started in a medical profession.

Do you think you'll recognize any future doctors? Look again, for they may be graduates from St. Ursula.

Science Club: Kathy Mougey, Lori Paskiet, Sue Iannone, Mary Cummings, Sherri Wojcikowski, Debi Hager, Patti Alexander, Lynda Tittl, Jeanne Dennis; Standing: Officers and Moderator: Cathi Andrews, Sr. Mary Jane, Nancy Nice.

Sunset Home Benefits

Miss VanWormer's Red Cross Club, headed by Sharon Lemle, spent much of their time nearby at Sunset House for the elderly.

Several afternoons were spent playing cards, singing and playing musical instruments.

Besides visiting the ladies at Sunset House, the Red Cross worked busily on Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentine's Day and Easter favors to lighten and brighten their days.

The Camera Club has enjoyed many speakers on various topics and has shared with the school the SUA picture contest.

The Club has also taken field trips visiting important neighboring photographers, while gaining some DO's and DON'Ts.

St. Ursula's Quiz Bowl is the positive reaction to the gaining of knowledge, opened to anyone in the school who is interested in expanding their intellect. A Quiz Bowl member can be rewarded for her participation through overtime studying, picking up extra news stories, catching up on current events, and developing quick recall.

Thespians, SF Aids Add Spice To Life

"To join or not to join, that is the question." This was the theme of the Drama Club's recruitment. This organization gives girls an outlet to express themselves through acting. President, Tricia Martineau was also busy directing the play "Never Trust a Man", the comedy given for the incoming freshman at the Open House.

The club with its thirty members, spend their time during meetings by working with pantomimes and impromptues to sharpen their talents. There is never an idle hand during action. Involvement of the entire club is a must.

Artists Articulate Talent To Beauty SUA Halls

Heading the events of the Art Club this year was the beautifully decorated nativity scene in the upstairs lobby. This club also showed community spirit by their season's greeting in their art room window.

Some of the special activities of the year were working with metal enameling, parchment stainery of Christmas cards and using clay.

Senior chairman Lindsay Maxwell and club moderator Mrs. Holt help to fill the leisure time with interesting new hobbies and crafts for it's members. With these two talented people, nothing could be ever so boring.

French Fries and Tacos Explore Own Cultures

To fully study and understand a language and a country, one must explore the culture and the people of the land. Information must come from sources other than a grammar book. The club is the most useful element in leading to the discovery of things not found in a textbook. Learning tradition and culture makes the people and language come alive.

In French, Sister Judy ably fills in juicy tidbits about the people she lived with for a year. Little details like customs on Valentine's Day and Mardi Gras make the language more vivid. Of course, study cannot be complete without food! Parties and dinners keep every French appetite satisfied on frequent occasions.

For those examining the home of siestas under red tile roofs pulsing in the Spanish sun, much is offered. Songs from Spain can be heard floating from the depths of a congenially-filled classroom at various intervals. Foreign cuisine ala Sr. Marie de Lourdes is as much a part of the Spanish Club's curriculum as any other language.

Caesar's Own Seek Wonders Of Latin

Under the direction of Mrs. Balent, chairman Stephanie Dutchess and co-chairman Barb Wright have resurrected the life of the German Club.

Besides German dinners at students' homes, the club has gone to Wittenberg's on Sylvania Avenue for good food and atmosphere.

Other activities included a trip to Eastern Michigan University where they visited three classes; a spring trip to Frankenmuth, Michigan.

Starting the year with a Mass in their adapted language was the idea for the early October liturgy of the Latin Club.

Corresponding closely with the Ides of March, the Latin members went to a convention in Columbus. Mrs. Zavac, moderator, encouraged members in completing a costume to take along.

URSULINE Staff Into Cerebral Act

The monthly newspaper, the URSULINE, is edited by Barbara Hensien and Angel Schira with Sister Susan Murawa as Moderator. Each co-editor is carrying a staff of about four or five girls.

Deadlines are no problem to this capable team of experts. Much patience and cooperation is needed from every member of this staff. The hustle of meeting deadlines is matched with the unique experience of seeing your own work published in the school paper. The URSULINE is the way of expressing student opinion. Those hardworking page editors: Carol Christy, Cindy Kelly, Ann Marie Grycza, Sue Binkley, Karen Nagy, Mary Kay Wirries, Rae Ann Arnold and Sue Leopold lead their staff through confusion.

SCROLL Authors Produce Winner

The quality of the yearbook is shown through the endurance of our "professional" staff. The editors of the 1974 Scroll, Pam Selz and Claudia Bosch, showed their leadership by directing the composition and unity of the book, sometimes in the face of great danger and woe.

Backing them were the thirty-one members doing their part to accomplish the work needed to make each section the best. All in all, the staff has proven to be efficient in meeting their goals.

Care Proves Concern

SISTER KATHLEEN PADDEN, M.A.
Principal
American History

You might think you know what Ursula is all about, but there are a couple of people that know Ursula alot better than you. "Administration" is the title given to them.

Principal Sr. Kathleen Padden and assistant principal Sr. Frances Cabrini have done countless number of things for us, and know what Ursula and its students are all about.

Sr. Kathleen is especially aware of each individual student after being in administration for seven years. But is she aware that: girls enter the school as green frosh afraid of anyone in authority, including Sr. Kathleen. Sophomore year, Sr. Kathleen was still an authority figure, only met in times of trouble. But after four years, one comes to the realization that all along Sr. Kathleen was truly interested and concerned for all of us.

In retrospect, for needed yet not always appreciated advice, we'd like to extend a big THANK YOU to Sr. Kathleen.

Sr. Kathleen Padden gives the photographer her bubbling smile to show us the sparkling side of her personality.

Religion Creates Christian Atmosphere

Religion at SUA is a little different experience every year. New courses, new programs and new approaches help students enjoy learning religion and develop a positive attitude toward it.

Seniors can take courses in Christianity, participate in service courses, or participate in the combined Monday night religion program with St. Francis and St. Johns. Second semester juniors can also participate with St. Johns in the MERP.

Open to upperclassmen are courses in Understanding the New Testament, Making Moral Decisions, Celebration, or Religious Studio. Or they can take a course in faith, taught by the newest member of the religion team Sr. Eileen Simon, entitled: I Do Believe.

For the spohomores and freshmen, the courses are more content oriented with most of the girls also being involved in the service aspect. Sacraments are also central in their program, stemming from the principle that they become intellectually thinking and affectively loving Christians.

Mrs. Falke, department head, points out that it is hoped students will associate what they learn with what they live.

English Professors Spark Student Curiosity

The overall aim of the English Dept. is for the girls to learn the art of expression, both written and oral, through attention to good speaking habits and practice in written composition in conjuction with the art of listening well.

This year, the English Dept. reorganized its curriculum. All freshmen are required to take one semester each of basic composition including short stories, novels and essays. Sophomores must take a semester of speech and another of literature.

The junior-senior level is composed of mini-courses on an elective basis, along with a college prep survey of American and British literature.

Mathematicians Brainstorm Numbers Racket

Basically, the Math Team wants every student to be able to handle everyday math problems. The Math Department, under the direction of Sister Anne Louise, is working daily to educate further those gifted in math for the types of mathematics they will encounter in college.

This year, classes are self-contained and have one teacher as opposed to the previous use of a system of indepentent study.

Students in Algebra classes were divided according to their ability and proficiency in the subject. This gives those students with a talent for the subject the chance to move ahead and to help others. This department also helped students prepare for the Greater Toledo Math Preliminary and Final Tests at the University of Toledo in March.

Juniors and seniors of the Practical Math class are eager to answer.

Business Ed. Offers Intensive Office Work

The objective of the Business Education Department this year was to give the girls a broad variety of Business courses, principles, laws and regulations by which the business world operates.

Mrs. Kabat and Mr. Malone have been widening the scope of courses offered, to provide the student with a useable skill after graduation. The two business majors that were offered this year were Stenography and General Clerical-Typist. Some of the courses proposed to the students included Personal Typing, Typing I and II, Shorthand I and II, Bookkeeping I, Business English/Math and Office Practice.

Having such a wide variety of courses is the ideal situation for those contemplating entering the Business World.

Mentors Probe Scientific Route

Four teachers split up the eight different subjects taught vigorously within the laboratories on the first floor.

A new face, Mrs. Black, teaches a course exclusively for freshmen called Introduction to Earth Science. Sophomores flock to fill the places behind microscopes in pursuit of paramecium in Biology. They, along with upperclassmen are invited to take Earth Science. Lovers of lab have moved on from Biology to Chemistry where new texts and problems were introduced. The third lab course is well represented by seniors in Physics.

Introduction to Physiology and Physiology are junior and senior courses taken by students interested in medical careers.

All of these minds are pooled together to form material for local and state science competition. The local symposium also hears from Ursula's speakers as girls report findings in projects to the committee and take part in an informative two-day program.

"Don't look now, but I think we're on camera."

Fellow physiology students look on as Katie Badylak explains, "The head bone's connected to the neck bone. The neck bone's connected to the . . ."

Fine Arts Program Enhances School

The fine arts are definitely on the rise in classes as well as in student interest. New in the art room are specialized semester courses in stitchery, macrame, pottery and decoupage. The use of stitchery as an art and luxury are explored through wall hangings and needlework composition. Clay displays have been a product of the pottery class, with string sculpture being developed in the macrame sessions.

Humanities is a concentrated study of man's development, his beginnings, his defects and his struggle to be an individual. Beginning with primitive man, the course follows man through the Golden Age of Greece, the dark and narrow Medieval Age, the triumphal Renaissance, on up to modern man.

Foreign Linguists Inspire Competency

New classes and new teachers have broadened the scope of the language department and of the students who take languages. New to this department this year are Mrs. Tina Nimphie, Spanish and French teacher, and Mrs. Nancy Balent, German.

Promoting the four basic language skills of listening, reading, comprehension, and speaking is the aim of the department.

The language department strives to create a better understanding of our neighbors through a knowledge of countries, peoples, cultures, and geography. Simultaneously, an appreciation of foreign literature is adopted. Drawings, photographs, maps, songs, poems, fables, movies, and other carefully chosen supplementary materials are used to introduce the various civilizations. Interest is stimulated for the continuation in the language sequence and opportunities for cultural experiences outside the classroom are provided.

Social Studies Dept. Yields Worldly Knowledge

Looking back to the beginnings of the land of Russ, the Russian History Class followed the rulers of Russia up to and through the Romanov Dynasty, culminating with the beginning of the Bolshevik Revolution.

In contrast, the traditional course in American History was offered with a new twist. More films, audio-visuals and increased current magazines were used to broaden the scope of social studies.

After American History, the seniors look more closely at our country's system of rule in Government class, and touch comparatively the Communistic approach in Asia. In Sociology and Psychology, the emphasis is on people, their environment and situations instead of the institutions they have created.

In World History, Mrs. Balent starts with the beginnings of man in ancient civilization and follows the course of history up to the present century.

Mr. Ted Chmielewski recreates for his class the ancient Tzars of Russia.

Mrs. Balent's World History class, absorbed in their books of the past, are lost to the twentieth century.

Bookworms Probe; Counselors Advise

The library, under the careful watch of Sister Mary David, is open every school day with an abundance of material at each student's fingertips. The librarians are always available to help girls with assignments and to encourage leisure reading in all fields.

There is another corner of St. Ursula where students can turn to find information, help with schoolwork and a friendly person who has the time to listen. The corner? Mrs. Carolyn McCallister and Mrs. Virginia Townsend. New in the Guidance Dept. this year, is the twice weekly gathering of freshmen and sophomores to discuss the topics of their choice.

Non-curricular Staff Members Feed Our Needs

Piping hot meals are served from the sparkling steam table three times a day, five days a week, thirty-six weeks a year. The smiling faces of the ladies depict the images of the moms we left behind.

Not to be outdone is the maintenance staff who keep the entire building sparkling clean, even the two days after Cherry Blossom Festa.

NOSTALGIA

He wore a long white scarf, a pair of flying goggles set at a jaunty angle on his head, riding breeches and flew a Jenny. Ah yes, the nostalgic days of aviation! But that's all changed now, and some other things have changed with it. Things like the pay, free education, travel, and technical training. By the way, the nostalgia is there too.

Who Needs More Power Plants Anyhow?

You Do.

If you want to use the products you own today and will own tomorrow. Most are powered by electric energy.

If you want to work. Every job requires the use of electricity in some form.

If you want to live in a quality environment. Most pollustion control equipment runs on electric power.

YOU need power plants . . . for all your wants.

Mary Lou,
I'm so glad I got to know you this year. You are so sweet and nice so stay just as you are! Hope to be in some of your classes
next year. Good Luck!
And have a riot this summer! Jayne

The theme of the 1974 Scroll tries to answer the question posed by this year's Student Council: "What's It All About, Ursula?"

We the editors have come to the obvious conclusion that Ursula is all about people; the teachers, the students, the maintenance; their ideas, their personalites, and their attitudes.

Through our work on the yearbook, we have come across a few of the special people who have shown us, "What Ursula Is All About." To them we would like to acknowledge their patience, time, and support: Sister Susan Murawa, advisor

Mr. H.H. Heindel, photographer

Miss Michele Byrne, student photographer

Mr. Doug Bynum, Hunter Publishing Representative

WOWWCE I'm the third one to sign your year book. Well Whats there to say! This year has gone fast. It's been really great (I guess). Well. Good luck with Mark. I no your jealous of me. Me and my fantastick looks. Fabulos personality. and all of my Charm. Well at least I have something but I don't no yet. I don't have all of these but what makes people stop and look and sometimes listen to me? Well its because I'm different (as if you hadn't noticed) What I'm trying to say is that don't be like any one else be yourself. Thats the best way to be. Be different don't be a common ordinary person cause then your wasteing your life. I no cause I have tryed to be like other people but It doesn't work. Never get to close to a friend. Keep a lot to your self. Just be yourself. This doesn't make any sense. But I remember at the beginning of the year when we were pretty close friends. I had a lot of fun when I was with you. Cause you were yourself. and then I started hanging around with mary Donna and Sharon. and I tryed to be like them and every thing started to happen. There nice people. But I don't want to be like them. And I'll call you this summer. Promise! I will. Cause your your and your not a fake.

well. this is dumb and I don't understand it

So I'll stop writting

By. Love.

Mary Lou,

Well, it's the end of the year and you didn't even meet Tad! With Mark around you prob'ly won't want to. Any-way, I hope I see you during the summer, next year (even if you're not here), and the years after that. Just you wait, I'll find somebody this summer with a real nice ... ring. If you see me in the summer (that has a nice ring" to it, doesn't it?) I'll be normal; fat (er... slightly overweight), weird, and always game to make a fool out of myself. Enough of me(s). Now about you. Believe it or not, you're cute, so don't worry about anything. Your personality is great, it really is. I haven't found out all about you yet, but someday I will. But, like it said, I really like ya and I hope to see you (and Mark sometime, maybe?)

à bientôt,
Love Afa.

Mary,

Im the first one to sign your yearbook - thrill. Ho - this year has really been something else, I don't think I could forget it if I tried. Don't forget all we learned this year; Mr Judy taught us about French toilets, Woom taught us that we could get away with anything if we tried, and even though we had Anne Louise at different hours - she taught us both to always set a problem to zero before working it out. I really can't belive that this year is about over, it seemed to go slow but now when I look back it flew by. Always remember how you convinced me to go here - and there end up somewhere else. I remember all the people we knew this year and all the laughs we had over some of the jerks here. Im really glad I got to know you this year - and I hope we'll always stay friends ! I mean it !!! Keep in touch with me over the summer O.K. Stay like you are - cute, sweet Mary Lou, cause you're the best that way. You better never forget me - I wont forget you !! Have fun & good luck ! love (all night !!)
